FIND YOUR FOCUS

You've got all the information, now you need to decide how you'll share it. Continue on the back if necessary.

2 What will your audience find interesting about your story?

4 Delegate roles in your team (one person can have multiple roles!) Write a name next to each task.

- Collections - who will make sure the objects/images are ready for display?

- Exhibitions - how will you group the objects together to tell the story in the most meaningful way?

- Front of house - who will greet the visitors and explain how to interact with the display?

- Education - How will you make sure the visitors have learned something from your presentation?

1 Who is your audience?
This could be anyone from your classmates to pupils from another class, a nursery group, your families, other teachers, or even aliens!

3 How will you present it to them? A display, a talk, drama, song or rhyme - it's up to you!

5 How will you spread the word about your work?
Can you design a poster or write a press release about it?
